Traditional Hello Week Begins Next Monday With Friendliness Theme

"Hello, pal" and "Hi, good-looking" should be pretty familiar sounds around the Y campus next week as the traditional BYU Hello Week launches a new and friendlier "hello" year.

Hi cards are to be the big feature Monday. These will be issued at the lower campus and in the lobbies of the Smith and Science buildings. Also, a new feature of the year will be the "Hi-Walk." This extra friendly strip will be the old road that stretches from the bottom of the hill at Second East street to the Joseph Smith building.

To pass a fellow student on this walk without some friendly greeting will be an almost unpardonable sin.

Friday, at 9:55 a.m., the first talent-packed assembly will be presented in the fieldhouse. That same night, "The World Says Hi at the Y" will ring out as theme of the big studentbody hello dance. This affair is to be either stag or drag and will begin at 9 p.m. in both the Joseph Smith ballroom and the Social Hall.

Friendliness on and off campus is everyone's full-time job, so let's cooperate with a smile and a Hi to make BYU the world's friendliest school.

The annual Hello week is sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights and the Y Belles. This year's acting chairmen are Dick Devy, American Fork, and Julia Groberg, Idaho Falls. Pat Smith, Orem, is in charge of name tags. The mat dance is being handled by Gayle Boyack, Salt Lake City, and Ned Miller, Bingham Canyon. Hi Hat chairmen are Weston Edwards, Provo, and Cherril Curtis, Sacramento. Assembly chairmen, David Dawson, Layton, and publicity chairmen, Preston Madsen, Provo, and Mary Anne Carter, Salt Lake City, complete the list.

McCune is Part of Y Fine Arts

Brigham Young University will have a second branch school in Salt Lake City this year, according to an announcement made by Ernest L. Wilkinson, BYU president.

Commencing this fall the McCune School of Music and Art will be a branch of the School of Fine Arts, Brigham Young University. This is the second addition to BYU this year, the LDS Business College in Salt Lake being the first branch acquired by the University.

Courses taught at McCune will consist of both college and non-college. College level courses will receive full BYU credit and will conform with the same classes taught on the BYU campus in Provo.

McCune will continue under the direction of N. Lorenzo Mitchell, who has been acting in this capacity for the past two years.

It was over 30 years ago that the music and art institution was founded by the church. The school has been housed in the palatial McCune mansion on North Main Street. It was presented to the church many years ago.

Romney Chosen To Head Frosh Council

George Romney, Salt Lake City, was elected chairman of the largest freshman class in Brigham Young University history Tuesday until permanent officers can be elected.

Legislative councilors who will serve with Mr. Romney on the Legislative Council are Karl Wood, Provo, and George Sukasian, Huntington Park, Calif.

The remaining three members of the temporary council are Ed Pinegar, Provo; Montie Keller, Idaho Falls; and David Calvert, Beaver.

Elections were conducted by studentbody president LeRoy Porter during the course of Tuesday night's orientation assembly.

ALL LINED UP—Frosh officers are Ed Pinegar, David Calvert, George Romney, chairman, George Sukiasian, Karl Wood, and Montie Keller. Elections were Tuesday.

B.Y.U. Bookstore Inaugurates New Self Service

Textbooks for the coming quarter can be obtained at the bookstore through the new self-service system, the only system of its kind in the intermountain West.

Started to relieve the congestion and delay usually accompanying the quarterly scramble for texts, the self-service method will enable nearly two hundred students at a time to search for books.

Special arrangements have been made to put books within easy reach, and clear labeling on the shelves. Beside the information centers in the store, directions concerning the location of the books will be obtained at registration and from the professors of each class.

While buying books students are required to find them quickly and then move immediately out of the shelf section so that other people may move in. Students are also asked to do as much purchasing of texts on Friday and Saturday as possible so that the "Monday crush" can be avoided.

OFFICIAL ACTION—President Ernest L. Wilkinson obliges Dick Devey and Julia Groberg, Hello Week co-chairmen, as he signs proclamation opening the annual "friendly" week slated to begin Monday on the BYU campus.

Students Head for Fieldhouse As Fall Registration Begins

Brigham Young University's 77th annual registration began this morning in the fieldhouse with a record enrollment expected, according to registration officials.

Registration will continue through Saturday for all regular students, in reverse alphabetical arrangement.

Over 3000 freshmen and new students arrived on campus last Monday to begin a four-day orientation period of testing, and although tabulation of figures is not complete, the freshman class is expected to be the largest in the history of the university.

A new registration procedure is being inaugurated this year with the aid of recently installed IBM machines which will speed the sign-up of students. Old style class cards have been abolished in favor of machine-prepared cards.

White class cards will be issued students for each class. After final approval of classes by the counseling service or deans, registrants will write their student numbers in the upper left corner of the cards. A yellow Teachers' card issued will be used by instructors in making up class rolls. Students will sign only their name on it. A third card, called a student number card will show the permanent serial number for the student while at BYU.

All registrations will be completed in the fieldhouse, registration officials noted. Students will begin at the northeast door of the fieldhouse and proceed from there throughout the building.

Any students not registering at the proper time will have to wait until all registration is completed. Sign-up times are posted on campus and were printed in last Monday's UNIVERSE.

To facilitate registration, the files and equipment of the registrar's and treasurer's offices will be moved to the fieldhouse for two days. No matter what the student's problem is, it will be handled in that building, Dean Lloyd said.

Romberg Operetta To Be Presented

"New Moon," this year's Varsity Show, will be presented Nov. 20, 21, and 22, in the Joseph Smith auditorium, under the direction of Virgil Camp with Bob Chambers as stage director.

Leads for the production have already been selected. They are: Howard Putnam, Marylin Oakey, LaVan Henginer, Ron Carter, Brandt Curtis, and Jay Fowles.

Rehearsals begin Monday, according to Mr. Camp, and any person desiring to be in the chorus should contact Betty Hayes, production manager, immediately.

New Type Assembly Scheduled

BYU's "extra course"—assembly program—has taken on more importance since the addition of a third weekly student meeting, the university forum.

Inaugurating assembly programs will be such speakers as President David O. McKay, President Harry S. Truman, and Senator Everett Dirksen.

Three Weekly Assemblies

Generally throughout the year, Monday assemblies will be of the forum type. Wednesday's will be devotional and Friday will be devoted to student talent programs under the supervision of Olene Smith, Ogden, first vice president.

Monday's assembly, the first of the 1952-53 school year, will feature the welcoming address of Seating of all students at Monday's assembly will be by state and geographic area.

Placards at all entrances to the fieldhouse and at the stairways will guide students to their respective sections. State signs will make the seats reserved for each state.

Y Caloras and Intercollegiate Knights will assist in the seating.

President Ernest L. Wilkinson to the studentbody.

As President Wilkinson stated in his message to last year's June graduates, "In the BYU public forum we shall discuss public questions, professional matters in education, law, medicine, and other professions and pertinent civic obligations. We intend to keep these programs on a very high plane. We shall plan for them to be full of intelligent information and devoid of demagogery."

President McKay will be one of the first devotional speakers and is scheduled for October 10. Every member of the general authorities has been slated as a devotional speaker some time during the year, according to Dr. Wilkinson.

Case for GOP

Wednesday, the studentbody will hear the Case for the Republican Party" by Illinois Senator Everett Dirksen, who is recognized as one of the foremost orators in the GOP. He is the senator who piloted Bob Taft's name in nomination at the Republican convention this summer.

October 6, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, will give "The Case for the Democratic Party" in a campaign the county on behalf of Governor Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for President.

Assemblies will be held in the fieldhouse at 9:55 p.m.

MAT DANCE TUESDAY

Matinee dances are one of the most popular activities at BYU.

Freshmen are especially invited to attend the first Mat dance of the year Tuesday, at 5 p.m. in the social hall. State songs will be sung and special decorations depicting states will be the main feature of this "hello week" mat dance.

YC's and IK's are co-sponsors.

The Prince of Denmark . . .

BYU Speech Department to Present "Hamlet" as First Play of Season

Shakespeare's immortal tragedy, "Hamlet, Prince of Denmark," will be the first presentation of the Brigham Young University Theatre for the 1952-53 season. The play will be presented Oct. 22-25 in the Joseph Smith auditorium with performances beginning at 8:15 p.m.

According to Dr. Harold I. Hansen, director, tryouts are now being held daily at 7:30 p.m. in the Speech Center. Next week's tryout time and place will be announced in the UNIVERSE.

"This is to be a University theatre, not merely a departmental theatre," said Dr. Hansen, and he emphasized that anyone may try out, whether or not they are speech students.

Something New

Several new innovations will be noticed in this year's productions, according to Dr. Hansen. All performances will be in the Smith Auditorium, which has had the stage floor raised for better visibility from all parts of the auditorium.

A series of curtains to facilitate scene-changing will be set up on the stage before each play and removed immediately after the final performance. There will also be special lighting and switchboard equipment brought in for plays alone. These will also be removed after the play, so that, according to Dr. Hansen, there will be no actual changes in the auditorium itself.

Alfred Sensenbach, M.F.A., of Yale University has arrived on campus and will do all designing for the year.

A new shop is being built which will do all scenery building, and the mounting of all shows will be of a highly professional calibre, Dr. Hansen stated.

Performances Listed

In addition to the major plays presented during the season, Dr. Hansen will present several performances of Theatre in the Round and Experimental Theatre each year.

A special attraction will be the Barter Theatre of Virginia who will present four performances of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" in December.

Other plays to be presented during the year include a double bill, William Saroyan's "My Hearts In the Highlands" and Moliere's "The Doctor In Spite of Himself," directed by Dr. Preston Gledhill on November 12-15; Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman," directed by Dr. Hansen on December 10-13; Eugene O'Neill's "The Great God Brown," directed by Dr. Gledhill on February 4-7; Christopher Fry's "The Lady Not For Burning," directed by Dr. Hansen on March 11-14; George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," directed by Prof. Alfred Sensenbach, on April 1-4; and Kaufman and Hart's "George Washington Slept Here" directed by Dr. Hansen on May 13-16.

In addition to the Provo performances, Dr. Hansen announced that "Hamlet," "My Heart's In The Highlands," "The Doctor In Spite of Himself," "Death of A Salesman," and "Pygmalion" will also be presented at the Scera Theatre in Orem for one performance each as part of the Civic Drama series.

Dr. Hansen will also take Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie" and Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners" on tour during the year.

Students will be admitted to all performances on their activity cards, Dr. Hansen said. However, all seats are reserved and reserved tickets must be procured with the cards. Dr. Hansen emphasized, however, that if this privilege is abused, students will have to pay the same admission price for tickets as the public does. If after getting a reservation, the student finds that he will be unable to attend the play, he should return the ticket to the ticket office at once in order that someone else may have the opportunity to use it, Dr. Hansen stated.

BRAZILIAN REUNION SET

Military Band Sets Tuesday Concerts at Y

United States Navy Band, touted as "the world's finest," is slated to present two concerts at the fieldhouse Tuesday.

A matinee performance is scheduled at 3 p.m. with a second concert set for 8 p.m. Appearance of the band is being sponsored by the Provo Chamber of Commerce.

Director of the band of nearly 100 artists is Lt. Comdr. Charles Brendler, who has been an active member for 25 years.

Tickets for the Provo concerts will include both reserved and general admission. The reserved tickets are on sale at Hedquist Drug Store No. 1, BYU and the Provo Chamber of Commerce. Mail order reservations should be sent to the Chamber of Commerce. Evening prices are $1.50 for reserved chair seats and $1.00 general admission. Matinee prices are 25 cents for elementary students, 50 cents for junior and senior high school students, and 80 cents for adults.

Health Center Schedules New Students

All new students at Brigham Young University are required to make an appointment for a complete physical examination in connection with their registration, Dr. Vasco M. Tanner, student health program director, announced today.

Dr. Tanner emphasized that it is most important for students to make every effort to keep their appointments. If a student is unable to keep his original appointment, he will be given another. If he fails to keep the second appointment, he will be fined one dollar and given a third chance. If the third appointment is not kept, the student will be fined another dollar and expelled from the school.

Health Service facilities have been expanded to keep pace with the growing studentbody and the dispensary is equipped to handle virtually all routine health problems of students. A registered nurse will be on duty at all times during the regular school term.

Dr. Ariel L. William, native of Ephraim, will head the clinic this year. Others on the staff include Dr. John R. Bourne, full-time staff doctor; Dr. Wilford Woolf, forenoon staff doctor; Dr. Jesse Weight, night calls and emergency work; Mrs. Vera L. Mason head nurse; and Elsie Mae Patterson, laboratory technician.

The school is responsible for all student injuries received in the line of school duties and activities or while commuting to and from school. However, first aid will be administered for any and all injuries, regardless of the circumstances under which they are received, Dr. Tanner said.

If a student requires any treatment which is not available at the health center, he should come to the health center for authorization to get special drugs or care from other places and the school will be responsible.

Students should present their activity cards to obtain benefits from the health program.

HEALTH HEADS—Dr. Vasco M. Tanner, head nurse Vera L. Mason and Dr. Ariel L. Williams confer on plans that will provide medical service and care for BYU students during the year. Largest staff will assist at the center.

Unit Heads to Meet

All social unit presidents are scheduled to meet today at 6:30 p.m. in 152 Physical Science building. The discussion begun at Leadership Conference in connection with Help Week activities will be continued.

Speech Meet Set

Those interested in joining the BYU Forensic organization are invited to attend its first meeting of the year Thursday at 4 p.m. in room 260 PS. The meeting will be devoted to familiarization proceedings—acquainting new students with the essential details of Forensic work.

Wye Meets Tuesday

Any student who is interested in the WYE, student magazine, should be at the staff meeting Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. in 115 Smith building, according to Virgil B. Smith, editor. The staff needs artists, photographers, advertisement men, editors, and anyone else with good ideas, interest, and time.

Officers Extend Greetings

Brothers and Sisters:

We, the Presidency of Campus Branch, extend to you our welcome and greetings at the beginning of another year.

We appreciate the fine spirit which you bring here from your homes and we pray earnestly that each of you will be strengthened by that same spirit, that in working and praying together we may feel the love and unity of one large family.

The branch and it's auxiliaries are your organizations and we encourage you to take advantage of these opportunities which are provided for your spiritual growth.

The Lord has given us instruction that we should meet together often, that we might strengthen and sustain each other and keep ourselves unspotted from the sins of the world.

We have great faith in the youth of Zion, and we feel confident that the future holds for you great joy and happiness gained only through your faithfulness in the service of your God and fellow men

Our faith and prayers are in your behalf and our greatest desire is to serve you in all humility.

Sincerely your brethren,
Campus Branch Presidency

On Applying Honor

"I agree to abide by the Honor Code and to do my best to see that it is observed an denforced at the Brigham Young University."

You have signed or will sign this pledge. What does it mean? It means that you have pledged yourself to observe, and hel pothers observe, the principles and standards o fthe Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. This is the Honor System.

BYU-1951-52 is gone except as we read of it in record. Each of us is helping to create BYU1952-53. We are "re-creating" the tradition of Homecoming, Hello Week, Song Fest, and Snow Carnival. We are re-creating" also the Y tradition of Honor. Let's keep them great. Let's make them greater. We are the ones to say which they will be.

This is an attempt on your part and mine to apply in our daily lives those ricniples we have been taught from youth and to which we have given lip-service all our lives. We are working together in helping one another to attain a goal which we individually and thoughtfully have agreed upon as desirable.

Warnings are given—helpful, impersonal restraints upon those who momentarily forget the ideal to which they have committed themselves an dthe value of the signature which they have placed upon the pledge. Restraint—not condemnation. Sharper reminders are needed for those who will ignore warnings and those consist of reporting the incidents to the faculty member in charge or to any Honor Council member. Honor Council members may be reached at the Student Coordinator's Office any school day. Hours will be posted there.

"BYU is in the business of man-making." Dr. Royden Braithwaite has in this remark pointed at our work, for you and I are the BYU. You and I as students, as well as every faculty member from President Wilkinson on down, pool our "capital" of integrity and ideals into our common business of building greater men and women.

Housing Forum Set

"I'm agin it!", "I'm agin it!", echoed through our ivy covered halls when students heard of the new student housing program concerning off-campus hours. AMS Council anticipating just such a reaction to the housing program, has made plans to do something about it. Next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Smith auditorium the Associated Men Students, in cooperation with the forensic squad, are sponsoring a forum to discuss the new policy.

The panel will consist of the members of the administration who are responsible for the new housing program, including Dean William F. Edwards, Dean Wendell B. Hoyoon C. Smith, Dr. Earl Wolthuis, John F. Jones, Lillian C. Boothe, and Ben E. Lewis. Lloyd Gerber, Wellington, forensic manager, will act as moderator. The new program, according to Dean Edwards, is expected to improve the Y policy of a "single standard" for all students.

We know you all have lots of questions, and even a few might think they have legitimate gripes — (We thought so at first too, until we understood the program.) — so Wednesday night is the time to air them. It's our school, so let's exercise one of our privileges an spend an hour Wednesday in coming to a nunderstanding of our school's policies. If you're not interested enough to come remember you've got no further room to gripe.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Bibler

Izen-Ers . . .

On Pratt Prattling to Frosh

by Cal Pratt

As the leaves turn red on the mountainsides and the frosh turn green in the valley, BYU prepares for another great year of its history And this year will be greater than any other.

The campus, like a little boy, has shown signs of growth over the summer. It has a new set of clothes (curbings, lawns, roads fixed), more brain capacity (new bookstore), better vocal cords (expanded speech center), and many other improvements that would more than fill this column.

Notes BYU Growth

As usual, the population exceeds last year, too. In fact, this will be the largest enrollment in the 77 years since Brigham Young founded us.

It's hard to know how to begin the first column of the year. It would be easy to be philosophical—to say ones what a great and marvelous school this is, and the thing about it is. . . it is! Or it would even be tempting to launch off into one of the controversies that kept this newspaper in print last year, but then I would be accused of starting the whole thing. So, I'll be content to point out some of the possibilities and opportunities of the year ahead.

President Wilkinson has done a tremendous service to people like Russell Horiechi, Foro Paulson and me, when he decided to have a civic forum as well as a devotional each week this year.

Last year the combination was not so good. When you went to "devotional" on Tuesday you'd never know whether you were going to be humbled by a great sermon on repentence or laugh at the jokes of T. V. Smith. This year we have to do both!

Another feature (especially for frosh) is the water down version of hell (Cougar Cub) week. You'll go through a little stuff, frosh, but since you outnumber the upperclassmen I believe they have decided to go a little easy on you (in case of a boomerang).

Well, so goes campus life!

I'll hate to see the old bookstore sink into oblivion. That was the place you made lifelong friendships. . . . while waiting to be served! The Science building has been graced with a lawn and the lawn has been graced with weeks. Oh well, it'll create another job at Buildings and Grounds.

On the Porter Bandwagon

LeRoy Porter promises to be a good president. He has begun his administration by getting the confidence of many who doubted. And after Truman's visit to the campus October 6, I think everyone will be on LeRoy's side.

Well, frosh, make the most of it. It'll only last four years (in most cases)!

Plenty of Sparkle . . .

Frosh Coeds Selected for Cougarette Ranks

CATS FACE NEW MEXICO IN SKYLINE OPENER

COUGARS AIM VENGEANCE AT LOBOS; PRIME FOR CONFERENCE CLASHES

by Ted Johnson

The Skyline conference football schedule for the 1952-53 season will be officially opened for the New Mexico Lobos and the BYU Cougars when the two teams tangle on the Provo grid Saturday night. The Cougars previously kicked the top off their season's slate with a pre-season tilt with a highly-rated service team, the San Diego Naval Air Station, last Friday night.

The Cougars, still mindful of the humiliating upset they suffered at the hands of the New Mexico lads at the windup of last season's play, have been giving their attensions to sharpening up their ground attack, their backfield speed and their defensive line stanidns. The Cats last to the Lobos in Albuquerque by a 34-0 margin in a homecoming battle in which the homestanding Lobos were underdogs.

Head Cougar coach, Chick Atkinson, will have his charges driving hard to continue in the win column and also to avenge thatloss of last season. The Cats will be carrying a slight advantage due to the fact that the game will be played in Provo and this, along with more team depth and vet peance angle, should give the Y club a litte more to go on when the two teams meet.

Initial Lobo Tilt

Slated as one of the top games in the Skyline circuit this week, the kick-off time has been set for 8 p.m. in the Y stadium and will be the first conference game for both teams.

New Mexico's head coach, Dud DeGroot, has been whipping his club into shape with much anticipation, since this season's opener promises to be one of the toughest clashes for the Lobos' entire slate. The Lobo crew has been working hard and according to DeGroot, are as eager to pop the top on the season as any group he has even seen and indicated that they are ready for their first test on Saturday night in the Y stadium.

Many returning lettermen grace the line-ups of both clubs and will probably be called upon to carry the biggest share of the respective loads. The Lobos slate lettermen at every position but one on both the offensive and the defensive units and some stalwarts will probably get the nod to work in both capacities. However, Coach DeGroot stated that both line-ups may be radically changed prior to kick-off time on Saturday and indicated that he would have his best available men at every post in an effort to thwart the Cats.

The Cougar contingent in Friday's game was held to a scant 30 yards in running plays and it was only due to some timely breaks in their favor and some well executed pass plays that kept them in the win column. The big Skyraider line stopped them cold.

Doney Joins Action

Speed in both the line and in the backfield is needed and Coach Atkinson and his staff have been concentrating in that department. Darrell Doney, senior quarterback who was on the sidelines for the Skyraider go, will be ready for action in the Lobo clash and will add his experience to the Y cause in the pending battle.

This year's edition of the Cougar pigskin crew has been given an added boost with the return of seven lettermen who have been serving with the armed forces or in LDS missions. These returning vets, along with the talent returning from last year, give the Y one of the best manpower pools of any team in the conference and is largely the reason for optimism on the part of many Cougar backers.

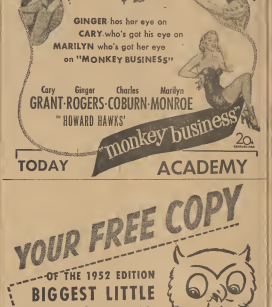

Students Admitted Free

The Lobo-Cat struggle will be the second home game for the Y club and will only leave two more home games to be played. Students will be admitted on their activity cards.

The next appearance of the blue and white on the Y gridiron will be against Denver University on October 25. The complete list of remaining games on the Y slate is found in the box at the right.

Former Y Stalwarts Return to Blue and White

For those who followed Cougar football fortunes three and four years ago, there will be a glint of familiarity on the 1952 gridiron squad.

Seven young men who formerly cavorted for the blue and white are back in football togs this fall. Five of these men have been serving Uncle Sam, while the other two served as LDS missionaries.

Dave Chadwick, Payette, Ida.; Elmo Roundy, Palmyra, N.Y.; Dave Lindstrom, Price; and Karol Bills, Provo; were all part of the Provo National Guard unit that was called up two years ago.

Don Moncur, Lovell, Wyo., served in a Wyoming Guard outfit. Don Woods, Pendleton, Ore., and Reed Stolworthy, Orem, both fullbacks, are returned missionaries.

Roundy and Chadwick are both halfbacks, while Bills and Lindstrom are guards. Moncur is a center.

Cougar football stock, which has been steadily climbing the last two years, is certainly given an added impetus by this group of seven.
